

Facts & Figures

The Internationaler Bund in a Nutshell

Building Bridges. International Cooperation

In cooperation with its international partners the IB is committed to international understanding and tolerance. It actively participates in tailor-made solutions to social problems and contributes to the welfare and social development of society worldwide.

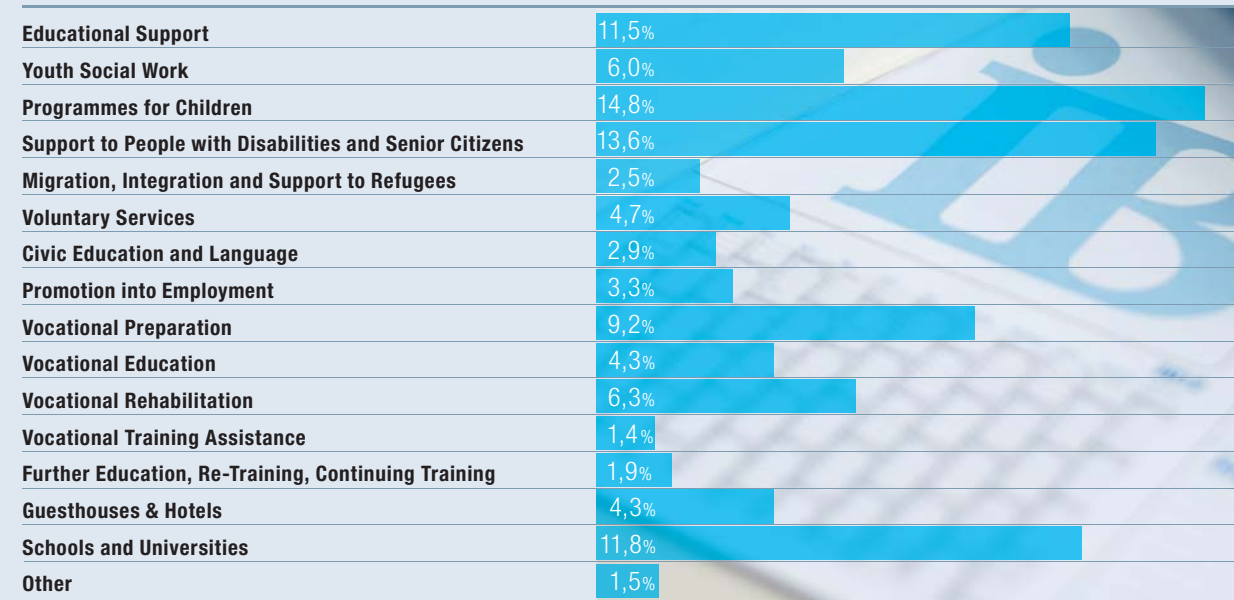

SERVICES

- International Services and Development Cooperation
 10 development cooperation projects
 10 offices, affiliated companies and representative offices in Africa, Asia and Europe
- Youth and Expert Exchange
 59 exchanges
- International Voluntary Services
 170 volunteers in 30 countries
- Recruitment Services
- International Networks
- Guesthouses & Hotels
 10 youth hostels and hotels with more than 300,000 overnight stays

The IB Group: Revenues in 2015

The IB Group: Use of Funds according Sectors

Caring. Social Development Services

Care, counselling and guidance are required in many life circumstances. The IB offers services for children, young people, adults, senior citizens and families. Professional social work tailor-made for individual life patterns is often required to help find solutions to issues related to social orientation in today's complex societies, situations of great need, low standards of living, social exclusion and other difficult living conditions.

SERVICES

- Youth Social Work
37,000 clients at schools
102 social environment related projects
30 boarding schools and youth homes
- Support to People with Disabilities
1 rehabilitation centre for the blind
12 residential homes
48 open and semi-residential services
5 integration information centres
- Education Support
9,000 clients including educational supervision, support to delinquents, etc.
- Programmes for Children
118 child day care centres serving 12,200 children
- Migration, Integration and Support to Refugees
90 migration services serving more than 16,000 people
68 refugee homes
- Supporting the Homeless and Debtors
21 shelters and residences for the homeless
19 open services for the homeless
- Assisting Senior Citizens
5 residential homes
4 multi generation homes
7 open services
- Open Child and Youth Work
80 youth centres

Educating. Education and Labour Market Services

We understand that access to quality education and training is the key to a sustainable future. Education and vocational training are the prerequisites of helping people to shape their living conditions and to develop both personally and at the societal level.

SERVICES

- IB Schools and Universities
9,046 pupils in 180 schools
2 universities
1 further education and teacher training institute
- Civic Education and Language Institutes
4 language institutes
11,000 participants in language courses
100 civic education projects
- Vocational Orientation, Preparation and Training
- Vocational Rehabilitation
38 vocational training centres with 90 remote offices
26,431 participants for vocational preparation and orientation
11,031 apprentices in 100 professions
- Further Education, Re-training, Continuing Training
1,590 participants in further education courses
- Promotion into Employment
10,681 participants in active employment measures
- National Voluntary Services
57 locations with 9,675 volunteers

Internationaler Bund (IB)

Residence: Frankfurt, Germany
Editor: Thiemo Fojkar, Chairman of the Board
60389 Frankfurt, Germany · Fon +49 69 94545 0 · Fax +49 69 94545 280
Pictures: Fotolia, Hamma

Carlo Schmid, 1896-1979
Founding Father
of the German Constitution
and the IB

Since 1949.

With almost 14,000 employees, the Internationaler Bund (IB) is one of the largest service providers in youth, social and educational work in Germany. Its motto is 'MenschSein stärken'. 'MenschSein stärken' means to help a person to help themselves, to (re)establish their self-sufficiency and their personal pride.

The IB has established more than 700 facilities and branches in 300 locations worldwide, helping 350,000 children, adolescents, adults and senior citizens every year with their career and personal planning and offering a wide range of services. The IB-Group is politically non-aligned and non-denominational. Helping people to develop in freedom, to shape their own lives, to integrate into society, to take on personal responsibility, to actively help shaping the development of society, to encourage the willingness for social support to the individual and the society, to promote international understanding and cooperation have been core elements since its foundation in 1949.

These principles have remained valid to the association. Caring, educating and building bridges are the IB guiding principles while organising help for society.

www.internationaler-bund.org

MenschSein stärken

